Additional Retreats to be Announced

Reeling and Healing, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that conducts fly fishing retreats for women who have or have had breast cancer. These retreats introduce women in recovery from breast cancer to the healing powers of fly fishing by providing physical, emotional, and spiritual healing. Retreats are led by professional facilitators and experienced fly-fishing instructors.

You will leave the retreat with a wonderful sense of accomplishment having learned a new skill and established new friendships that may last a lifetime.
