Reeling and Healing, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that conducts fly fishing retreats for woman who have or have had any type of cancer. These retreats introduce women in recovery to the healing powers of fly fishing by providing physical, emotional, and spiritual healing. Retreats are led by professional facilitators and experienced fly-fishing instructors. Retreats also may include massages, facials, manicures or pedicures.

You will leave the retreat with a wonderful sense of accomplishment having learned a new skill and established new friendships that may last a lifetime.
